

Case Study

Customer: The Reform Club, London

Locations: Underground fuel storage area

Task: To empty, clean, gas free and prepare for removal two large redundant fuel in an extremely restricted space.

- Initial inspection, risk assessment and project plan
- Removal of heavy fuel oil from two tanks each eight metres long by 1.2 metres high
- Transfer of waste fuel to own facility for reprocessing, removing contaminants and producing re-useable product.
- Full de-gassing of each tank to enable safe cutting and removal. Certificates provided.
- Project completed within agreed timeframe and with no disruption to the smooth running of the club.

Value: Confidential

The Reform Club, London